star petrol stations donate goals by THW Kiel in Germany's top handball league to children suffering from cancer

Elmshorn, 23 November 2012 – For every goal by THW star Patrick Wiencek in the current season of Germany's top handball league, star petrol stations will donate 50 euros to the children's cancer ward at the Schleswig-Holstein University Medical Centre, Kiel campus.

From now on, goals by Patrick Wiencek, the THW Kiel player sponsored by star petrol stations, will count twice over. Both fans of the team and Deutsche KinderKrebshilfe, the German association dedicated to fighting cancer in children, will have reason to celebrate his goals in the current 2012/2013 season. For every goal that the pivot scores, star petrol stations will donate 50 euros to help children in the region suffering from cancer. That is why everyone is hoping for lots of goal-scoring opportunities for the German international from the 34 games in the top league. The total amount will be handed over to the children's cancer ward at Schleswig-Holstein University Medical Centre, Kiel campus, at the end of the season.

"We are proud to be able to make a regional contribution for the fight against cancer", says Wieslaw Milkiewicz, Managing Director and spokesperson for the petrol station brand star. Both star and THW Kiel have countless fans, especially in northern Germany. The successful partnership will also be continued next year.
